

NEVER PAY FULL PRICE AGAIN

5 ChatGPT prompts that find, test and stack every discount before you buy

Run these 5 prompts in order before you buy anything over about $30 online. Prompts 1, 3, 4 and 5 work in any ChatGPT chat. Prompt 2 needs agent mode (it opens the store and tests codes in a real cart; it stops before payment and nothing is bought without you). Not every store has a working code, and that's fine: steps 3-5 still save you money.

THE PROMPTS

PROMPT 1 Find every code

I want to buy this: [PRODUCT LINK]. Search the web for every coupon code, promo code and current sale for [STORE] right now. List each code with what it claims to give, where you found it and when it was last reported working. Also tell me if the store offers a first-order, newsletter, student, military or app-only discount.

PROMPT 2 Test them at checkout (agent mode)

Turn on agent mode. Open [PRODUCT LINK], add it to the cart and go to checkout WITHOUT placing the order. Try each code from the list above one at a time and record the final price for each. Stop before payment. Tell me which single code gives the lowest total, including shipping and tax.

PROMPT 3 Buy now or wait?

Is [PRICE] a good price for [PRODUCT]? Check its price history (for Amazon, camelcamelcamel or Keepa data if you can find it), how often it goes on sale and when the next big sale event is likely. Give me a clear answer: buy now, or wait until [DATE/EVENT], and why.

PROMPT 4 Stack cash back

Which cash back sites, card offers or browser extensions currently pay cash back at [STORE] (for example Rakuten, TopCashback, or my card's offers)? Rank them by rate and tell me the exact order to click through so the cash back tracks AND my coupon code still works.

PROMPT 5Just ask for it

Write a short, friendly email (under 80 words) from [YOUR NAME] to [STORE]'s customer service. I'm about to buy [PRODUCT] for [PRICE]. Politely ask if they can offer a first-order discount, match [COMPETITOR]'s price of [THEIR PRICE], or include free shipping. No pressure, no threats.

WHAT TO EXPECT

- Codes found online are often expired. That's why prompt 2 tests them before you pay.
- Cash back usually shows up weeks later. It's still real money.
- Small stores answer 'just ask' emails more often than big chains.
